

The Crescent Cell Card Drive Guide

The Challenge

1. Patients with sickle cell often have to face obstacles like intense pain, hospital visits, and not feeling normal
2. Dealing with sickle cell can cause patients to feel sad, lonely, and depressed.

The Mission

Show a kid or teen with sickle cell that they are cared for by making them a card.

Suiting Up: Getting Started

What you need:

- Greeting Cards
- Writing tools (pens, markers, etc.)
- Decorating supplies
- Location (house, school, etc.)
- Friends, students, family to help

Tip:

Invite a few friends or members of an activity you're in to help you make the cards. You'll have fun while helping to end the loneliness of sickle cell!

Make a Change:

1. Contact The Crescent Cell for names of sickle cell patients and how many cards you would like to complete
2. Choose the sickle cell warrior that you would like to make a card for
3. Write and decorate the card
 Hint: Pick a person who you have something in common with. It'll make writing the card easier!
4. Put the completed cards in an big envelope. Mail the cards to The Crescent Cell

Make sure to include:

1. Your Name
2. Interests
3. Words of Encouragement
